About the awards

Established in 2000 by the Australian Institute of Project Management (AIPM), the Project Management Achievement Awards (PMAAs) exist to recognise, honour and promote outstanding achievements in program and project leadership.

In its 24th year, the 2024 PMAAs will celebrate project management excellence and innovation across 12 awards for both organisations and individuals:

- 1. Awards for the leadership and management of projects (nine (9) categories)
- 2. Awards for individual project management achievement (three (3) categories)

Winners will be awarded in two levels:

- Chapter: Winners are awarded in each Australian state or territory.
- National: Chapter category winners progress to the national level presentation.

Why enter?

In a competitive marketplace, it is essential your organisation has the appropriate structures, methodologies and training in place to achieve successful project outcomes on a consistent basis.

By entering the PMAAs, you and/or your organisation are benchmarking your outstanding achievements and/or innovations in project management against your peers and demonstrating your commitment to achieving project excellence.

Other benefits include:

Judging

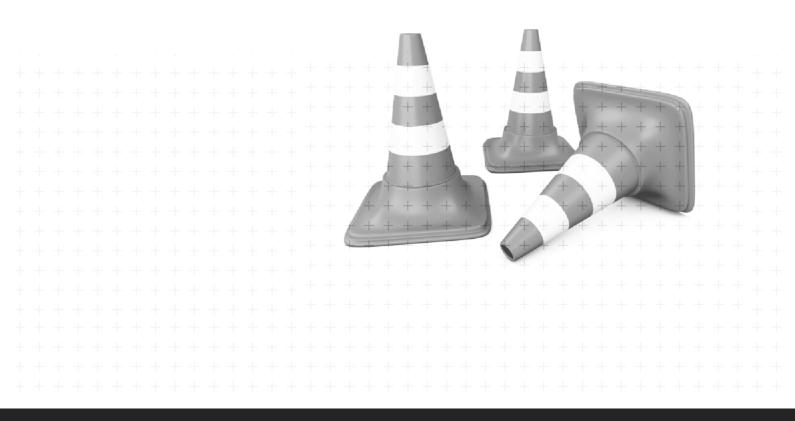

Judging of the Project Management Achievement Awards is conducted at the highest standard and with the utmost integrity and rigour. Judging panels are formed from a range of industry groups and with a broad range of experience in project management.

Judging panels will be independent of all submissions and are overseen by category chief judges, national deputy chief judges and a national chief judge.

Judges' decisions are final, and no correspondence shall be entered into.

Submissions will be assessed in accordance with these guidelines. Logos and pictures are expected as supporting material but will not be formally assessed unless provided as evidence within the submission.

Submissions need to be concise yet contain sufficient information for the judging panel to adequately assess the merits of the entry.

Announcement of winners

Winners are determined by the highest score within the category.

Chapter PMAA Events (August 2024) Chapter winners announced

Chapter winners proceed to national PMAA level >

National PMAA Event (October 2024)

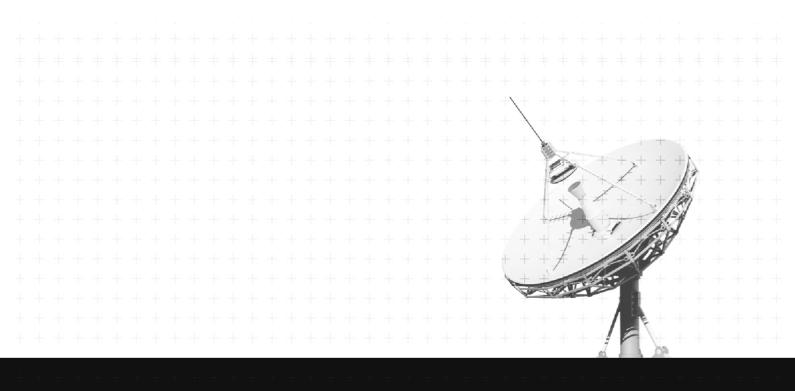

National winners announced

Note: it is possible for a category not to have a winner if none of the submissions are deemed to be of high enough calibre. The national winner of a category is determined by the highest score within the category.

Project of the Year award

At chapter level, the Project of the Year award will be granted to the submission with the highest score across all project categories within that state or territory.

The award for National Project of the Year is awarded to the project submission which achieved the highest score across all project category submissions received in the 2024 PMAAs.
